CASH FOR Y. M. C. A. WORK

List of Alexandrians Who Are Contributing Toward the Fund Being Raised in This City.

As will be noted by the statement published herewith, submitted by Judge J K M. Norton today, the total amount so far received toward the fund which is being raised in Alexandria for the Young Men's Christian Association war work is now only about $1,600. The amount apportioned to Alexandria city and county is $5,000, and unless a larger number of people respond it is feared the amount looked for will not be raised.

Byng Man of the Hour Now.

General Sir Julian Byng, who led the victorious smash into the German lines yesterday has become the "Stonewall Jackson," of England.

Before the war he was a member of that group known as "Kitchener's Men," having been called by the former secretary of war when initiative and courage were needed in combination.

In Memoriam.

In sad but loving remembrance of Nettie Robey, who departed this life six years ago today, Nov. 22, 1911.

Peaceful be thy rest, dear sister,
It is sweet to breathe thy name;
In life I loved thee dearly,
In death I do the same.

Once more the saddest day is here,
When God called home my dear sister,
Some may think the wound is healed
But little do they know the sorrow of this life.

My heart today is heavy,
My thoughts are all of thee;
How I loved thee and miss thee
No one but God can see.

By Mother and Sister.

WARNING TO GROCERS

National Food Administration Demands That Combination Sales be Stopped—Complaints Made.

The following article received from the National Food Administration, Virginia Division, will be of interest to Alexandria housewives, proprietors of groceries, and others:

Retailers have been directed by the food administration to stop combination sales. Many complaints have reached the food administration bureau that some retailers in various parts of the country are refusing to sell sugar unless customers purchased from 50 cents to $1 worth of other commodities. The food administration issues the following statement:

On and after November 17th all combination sales of food commodities are forbidden, with the one exception stated below.

The sale of one or more food commodities, upon condition that the purchaser shall buy one or more other food commodities as a combination sale within the meaning of this ruling.

Combination sales frequently result in the sale of more foodstuffs than the particular purchaser would ordinarily buy and are therefore determined to be a wasteful practice within the meaning of section 5 of the food administration act of Aug. 10, 1917.

Exception: Pending further notice and as a wheat conservation measure the dealer may sell sugar in combination with corn meal at the rate of one pound of sugar with two of corn meal. No other combination will be permitted nor will any other ratio than that here stated be allowed.

The dealer shall not sell either the sugar or the corn meal at a price yielding him a profit greater than he has normally enjoyed upon the particular commodity. The dealer is not required to make a combination sale of sugar and corn meal, but may do so at his discretion.

FOR BENEFIT OF HOSPITAL.

The Alexandria Institution Receives $206.47 From Proceeds of Supper Recently Held.

The board of managers of the Alexandria hospital are much gratified over the amount of cash that institution received from the oyster supper recently held. Mrs. L. Wilber Reid, chairman, has submitted the following report regarding it:

Receipts were as follows: From sale of tickets, $146.23; cakes, 21.20; fancy work, 20.85; pies, 5.95, groceries, 8.65; ice cream, 16.19; cash from two good friends, 25.00; another friend, 10.00; another friend, $6.50; Father Smet, 1.00; Rev. Mr. Register, 1.00; Mrs. Lorenzo Lewis, 1.00; Mrs. William Daingerfield, 1.00; Mr. Thomas, of Corby Company, 1.50.

Total	$266.07.
Less expenses	59.60
Balance	$206.47.

Mrs. Reid says: "The Board of Managers wish to thank everyone who helped to make the supper a success, enabling them to realize a sum most gratifying towards coal expenses. To thank each of the merchants for their donations to the individual members of the board of managers is impossible, as we have no list of donors, but to my personal appeal, I wish to thank for their generous responses—The Armour Co., Mr. Frank King, Brawner and Bro., M. J. McFarland, Thomas Lannon, Leachman and Saum, F. S. Harper Co. Havenner Bakery Co. through J. Y. Williams, M. E. Parker and Bro., A. R. Florence, National Biscuit Co. through Mrs. George R. Hill, S. F. Dyson and Bro., the Mutual Ice Co., the Alexandria Electric Lighting Co., for loan of their fine stove and to the Westminster Building Association for the reduced rent.

See Mary Tonight.

She's a pretty blond Irish maid with an Irish name—Tipperary Mary—and she's come all the way from New Orleans to make some little Alexandria girl happy. Tipperary Mary's trousseau, the work of a French modist, is complete from furs to sporting clothes. She has consented to pose in Mrs. Bradley's window on King street until some lucky 10-cent chance wins her. When Tipperary Mary is standing she is 18 inches high. She's a bright-eyed, rosy cheeked young lady doll. 280-1t

Alexandria City and Suburbs

The usual song service and prayer meeting will be held at the Anne Lee Home tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

It is said that several foreigners recently compelled to leave Washington, being regarded as alien enemies, were seen walking down the Washington turnpike towards this city this morning.

The writ of habeas corpus secured by the counsel for the hunger-striking militants at Occoquan is set for hearing tomorrow before Judge Waddill, of the United States District Court, in this city.

It is not too early to begin doing the Christmas shopping. In fact it should begin at once in order to secure the best bargains for the money that can be obtained. Delay in this matter will be liable to mean disappointments. Buy early, secure better service and avoid the holiday rush. It will save you trouble and vexation of spirit and please the merchants who want to please you, Mrs. Holiday Shopper.

The autumn festival which has attracted large numbers to the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum hall each evening during the past week will close tonight. Interesting programs have been given and it is expected that when the doors are finally closed this evening it will be found that a goodly sum of money has been gathered as a result. The Twelfth Field Artillery band from the St. Asaph military camp will be a leading attraction tonight.

On Tuesday night next, November 27th, the Laymen's League and Bible Class of St. Paul's church will tender to the pastor and vestry of that church the second of a series of suppers at the Parish hall. The Rev. Dr. Stetson, of Washington, D. C., will be present and deliver an address, in addition to addresses assigned to the various members of the class upon the historical character of the Old Testament. Those who will read prepared addresses are as follows: Abraham, H. A. Bales; Joseph, Wm. L. Allen; Moses, the Hebrew, the Law maker, the man of God, Eugene B. Taylor; Samuel, Urban S. Lambert; David, Dr. George T. Klipstein. The president of the class is Dr. George T. Klipstein, and its leader Mr. Urban S. Lambert.

A large aeroplane bound south passed over this city this morning. Where it came from or its destination is not known here.

Rev. Mr. Dubray, a Sioux Indian, will deliver an address in Norton Memorial tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 to which everybody is invited.

John M. Leadbeater, who ranks as Sergeant Major, in the First Maine Heavy Field Artillery, passed through Alexandria with his troop train on Saturday, enroute to Camp Greene at Charlotte, North Carolina.

The body of Ruth Mandley, who died in Washington on Tuesday, has been brought to this city for burial. Arrangements for the funeral have not been made. The body is at Wheatley's chapel.

The funeral of Mrs. Otelia R. F. Cline was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from her late residence, 214 South Royal street. The interment was in St. Paul's cemetery. Rev. E. V. Register officiated.

The stone which the Washington Monument Association placed on top of Shooter's Hill several years ago to mark the spot where it is purposed to place a monument to the Father of his Country, has been blown over by an explosive which had been placed under it. The perpetrators of this act of vandalism are unknown, but the police are endeavoring to identify them.

Mr. Wm. Albert Smoot of this city was signally honored in Philadelphia on Tuesday of this week when he was chosen president of the National Retail Coal Merchants' Association. Coal men were in attendance from all over the United States and Canada, and the fact that Mr. Smoot was unanimously selected as head of the organization which includes both countries, practically, is of more than passing significance, especially as he was unable to be present in person, being confined to his home by illness. It is gratifying to his many friends to know that his ability and fitness for the position was shown in this manner. Vice-presidents and other officers were chosen from California and various other states of the Union. The session was held in the assembly room of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce.

The funeral of Timothy J. Ryan was held this morning at 9:30 from St. Mary's Catholic church, Rev. Louis Smet officiating.

The powers of a special policeman have been conferred upon William Travers, who is employed at the plant of the Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company, by the city police commissioners.

The body of Mrs. J. B. Williams, who died while under an operation in the Providence Hospital in Washington yesterday, was brought to this city. Her home was at 220 North Patrick street.

Messrs. Joseph Downey and Will Moore, who went to Connersville, Ind., several days ago to recover the automobile stolen from the Mt. Vernon garage, returned with the machine this morning. Chief Goods and Officer Roland, who went to Connersville, after Davis and M'Creary, the two soldiers who assaulted, tied and took the auto from the young men, are expected to return tonight or tomorrow morning with the prisoners.

Harry Flood Byrd, Federal Fuel Administrator for Virginia, is rapidly organizing his machinery for the control of the fuel situation in this State, and has appointed committees in every county and important city to act as local boards under the direction of Mr. Byrd. Work in organizing these committees has consumed much time. The committees and the counties in which they are to serve have been published—Geo. Warfield, Albert Bryan and D. N. Rust will handle the situation in Alexandria.

On the High school grounds yesterday the High school team won from Bruiner's high school of Washington by the decisive score of 42 to 13. Altho' a little one sided it was interesting from start to finish. This is the first time in the history of the High school football, that they have been able to defeat Bruiner's. Dretfus, Rowen and Howard gained at will on every attempt, while Downham, at quarter ran the team well. In the lines Summers, Kennedy, Haynes, West, Remington, Hasson and McDonald, ripped big holes and out-played their opponents. Saturday the team journeys to St. Albans to defend goals with St. Albans Cathedral school.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

One "Drunk" Brought Before the Tribunal This Morning.

Three cases were on the docket of the police court this morning. A colored man, a resident of Washington, had been arrested for being intoxicated on the street. He acknowledged he had drank "a little" before visiting in Alexandria, but denied that he was drunk, insisting that he had been hurt in an automobile accident, and that this accounted for him staggering. The officers, however, were positive he was drunk, and he was assessed $5.

A soldier was charged with entering a lunch house, ordering a porter house steak, eating a large portion of it and the accompaniment and refusing to pay for his entertainment, he alleging that he had not been furnished with a genuine porter house steak. He was given his choice—settle the bill or be locked up.

A man, charged with exceeding the speed limit, was fined $10.

Real Sea Story in New Photoplay.

William Russell's new play, "The Sea Master," at the Richmond tonight is one of those sea yarns that grip the imagination with their swaggering sailormen, bucko mates, quick on the ropes, end o' belaying pin, and hardfisted skippers—their seventy-foot yard-arms and seething forecastle conspiracies.

Mr. Russell has been provided in this play with one of the most virile plots so far furnished him in his American-Mutual series. The story has to do with "Bull" Dorgan's falling in love.

Oysters For Sale

Look for the People's Oyster House, 212 King street Phone 552. We have now started our oyster boats and are receiving fresh loads every week and can furnish fresh shucked oysters, delivered to any part of the city. C. H. McKenney. 272-12t.

RESULTS OF ELECTION

Canvassing Board Meets Monday—Contest Over Meetze Victory.

Results of the election of November 6 will be made known officially Monday next, at which time the state board of canvassers—Governor Stuart, Attorney General Pollard, Auditor Moore, Treasurer Urner and Secretary James—will solemnly convene and count the vote cast for the officers. The result in a general way is already known, of course, and there is no reason to believe that the official count will change the figures announced.

What is of moment just now is the fact that there will be a contest in the house of delegates. C. A. Sinclair, of Prince William, the regular Democratic nominee, will ask to have the certificate of election denied to Christopher J. Meetze, an "Independent," alleging that there were irregularities in the election. Of course this will be denied by Mr. Meetze.

He would not have any voice in the caucus, where much work is really done, for he opposed the nomnee of the party. There is, of course, no question of the democracy of Mr. Meetze, but he was not "regular" in this affair. He failed to send his name to the officers in time to place it on the ballot, and was thus shut out, the nomination going to his opponent by default. Mr. Meetze then went into the general election and won out by a majority of two votes.

Divisions Smashed.

London, Nov. 22.—Perry Robinson, the London Times correspondent at the front, says four German divisions were badly crippled, and that a fifth, just from the Russian front, was hard hit. The advance was so deep that villages were taken with their civilian populations, so complete was the surprise.

MRS PURCELL HONORED.

Made Vice-President-General of Daughters of American Revolution for Virginia.

Interest in the closing session of the twenty-first annual conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Richmond, centered in the election of officers, which took place yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Benjamin L. Purcell, of "Tuscawilla," near Richmond, who had been discussed as a probable candidate for the State regency, was unanimously elected vice-president-general for Virginia to succeed Mrs. James F. Maupin, who was debarred from re-election by the statute of limitations regarding the term of office, which is four years in the Daughters of the American Revolution organization.

Mrs. J. M. Higginson, of Charlottesville, who was supported by a strong following of delegates who had been instructed to vote for her, withdrew her name from the candidacy for State regent, and Miss Althea Serpell, of Great Bridge Chapter, Norfolk, who has already been in office a year and a half, was re-elected. Mrs. R. L. Pierce, of Stuart Chapter, Wytheville, was elected vice-regent and Mrs. Henry Fitzhugh Lewis of Sycamore Shoals Chapter, Bristol, was elected secretary. Four Daughters, who were nominated for treasurer, refused the nomination successively amid much laughter, but finally Mrs. C. J. Hatcher, of Stuart Chapter, Wytheville, was induced to accept the nomination, and her election was made unanimous. The election of Mrs. John A. Alexander, of Beverly Manor Chapter, Staunton, as historian completed the quota of officers for the next two years.

HOLDING GERMANS BACK

Italian Lines on Piave and Mountains Beat off Attacks With Severe Losses to Enemies.

Victorious Britain "carried on" today with her triumphant smashing of the Hindenburg lines.

Tanks, cavalry, infantry—all were closing steadily around Cambrai—the great war machine rumbling over the enemy just as the tanks first crushed their way through the German lines.

The Tommies are now almost within grasp of the German depot of Cambrai as this dispatch is written.

One hundred square miles of French territory has been redeemed.

Every hour makes the British victory more gigantic in its scope, more astounding in its conception and execution. The Hindenburg line has been smashed to flinters.

Ten thousand prisoners with 200 officers have been captured.

London, Nov. 22.—German admission that the advance into Italy has received an undeniable check is seen here in curiously brief statements from Von Ludendorff on the vast operation, one of the greatest of the war. The Berlin official statement simply said there was no change on the Italian front, while the supplementary report last night declared there was "no news from Italy."

When things are going well the Prussian communiques are verbose. Rome reported another serious reverse for the Teutons in the region between the Brenta and Piave rivers, where the foe has made wholesale but futile sacrifices in attempts to rush the line of small mountains and thus gain the plains behind the Piave line.

Dense masses of hostile infantry assaulted Monte Pertica, northwest of Monte Grappa, three times. Each time they were thrown back with enormous losses. The attacks repeated the history of the sanguinary but useless attempts on Monte Monfenera and Monte Tomba. The two last-mentioned peaks are still firmly in the hands of Diaz's men, the Teutons holding only a precarious footing on the northern slopes of Tomba.

London, Nov. 22.—There are certain indications that Germany, encouraged by the pacifist riots in Zurich, is contemplating an invasion of Switzerland, with the object of attacking Italy on new lines.

BONE DRY LAW.

Half a Pint of Vile Compound Sells at $3.50 in Atlanta.

During his recent visit to Atlanta, Ga., Judge Oscar Leser, of the Maryland Appeal Tax Commission, made some inquiries, to gratify a personal curiosity regarding the operation of the bone dry law in the South. The inquiry was pertinent because of the total exclusion of liquor of all kinds from prohibition states.

"I was not looking for a drink in Atlanta," said Judge Leser, "and I should have to have been a very thirsty man to have swallowed a drop of the stuff which the bootleggers were retailing. I was told that this retail price was $3.50 per one-half-pint, or about four drinks for a healthy man. At this rate the chap who bought the stuff paid nearly a dollar for each drink. Carrying the calculation still further the price per gallon was $56, and, I was told, the stuff was bad. It belonged to the brand which has been advertised as carrying so much punch that a drop would persuade a rabbit to spit in a bull dog's face, an old illustration, it is true, but it tells the story.

"The cost of distilling reasonably good whisky is less than 50 cents a gallon. One can calculate, therefore the enormous profit on each gallon of whisky sold in Atlanta. Of course, great risks are taken, for the bootleggers have to dodge the special agents of the Federal Government, as well as the local police in smuggling their goods into the city. While I was in Atlanta a bootlegger was sent to the Penitentiary for a year for selling a pint of whisky.

"No stimulants of any kind are served at public or private dinners. We were guests at a dinner at which only Georgia products were on the table. Cold water was the only beverage."

An Oyster Supper will be held at Lee Camp Hall, Thursday, November 22, by the Ladies Immanuel Chapel of Braddock Heights, beginning at 6 o'clock. 279-2t

BREAK GERMANS' LINE

English, Scottish, Irish and Welsh Rip 35-Mile Gash in the Teuton Spinal Column.

London, Nov. 22.—With the biggest "Byng" of surprise that this war has seen, the British have ripped a 35-mile gash into the Teuton spinal column in Northern France.

Under the eyes of General Pershing they leaped "over the top" at dawn Tuesday, smashed steadily ahead until dusk, rested up a bit during the night, surged forward again at dawn, and were still going strong when darkness fell last night.

Result—A dozen towns, villages and hamlets, three formidably fortified woods, a ridge fortress and a mass of trenches and dugouts captured; also more than 5,000 prisoners. The Hindenburg line, that had been a taunt and a challenge, is no more. Within a few days, when it has been consolidated and reconstructed by its captors, it will be known as the "Byng line," for the big smash was executed by the Third Army under General the Honorable Sir Julian Byng. English, Scottish, Irish and Welsh troops compose it.

Amsterdam, Nov. 22.—The British drive against the Hindenburg line, it is believed, ushered in a gigantic allied winter campaign designed to break the German line before the Teutons can throw their forces to the West from Italy and Russia.

The French, according to Paris dispatches late tonight, already have fallen in line with the British. Laon, the southern pivot of the original Hindenburg line, is Petain's immediate objective.

The allies plan is believed to be to launch blow after blow at various points of the 250-mile line between the sea and Alsace with a view to cutting a gap somewhere and then send the whole Teuton front staggering out of France and Belgium. All the essential strategic points of the Teuton line are now menaced by flanking drives. The British in Flanders menace Lille; so does the latest push against Cambrai. Lafere, to the south is similarly threatened as is Laon.

London, Nov. 22.—The Berlin war office was forced to make some grave admissions though it minimized the British success on the center, the six-mile front between the highroads from Peronne and Bapaume to Cambrai. But news from the front tonight show that there, as everywhere else on the thirty-mile line of attack the British are ploughing ahead relentlessly and that the fate of Cambrai itself hangs in the balance.

Indirectly, the German bulletin gives credit to the tanks:

"On the main field of attack the enemy succeeded, under protection of numerous armored cars, in gaining ground."

It then states that Teuton reserves "arrested the thrust in the rear positions."

Occoquan Trusty Escapes.

Under special instructions from Inspector Grant, headquarters detectives, as well as men of every precinct, today are co-operating with officials of Occoquan in an attempt to apprehend Herman Kabansky, murderer, serving a life term at the Lorton Reformatory. Kabansky escaped from the reformatory at 3 o'clock this morning while engaged in duties of a trusty.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

PUBLISHED EVERY AFTERNOON Except Sunday.

By The Alexandria Gazette Corporation, 317 King Street, Alexandria, Va.

Entered at the Postoffice at Alexandria, Virginia as second class matter.

WE MUST RETRENCH.

While waiting on Royal street early this morning we were overtaken by an acquaintance who was carrying a small paper bag in one of his hands. He told us he had been in the southern section of the city on a search for sugar, and had managed to secure half a pound only. The man opened the bag and exhibited the contents, sugar moulded into small squares in shape of chocolate caramels. It was reported yesterday that a certain house in this city was selling one pound of this essential to each applicant, and in a little time the news had been carried by telephone to every section. There was a rush for the store, but the supply had soon been exhausted, and the greater portion of the anxious would-be buyers were sorely disappointed.

The sugar problem has become serious and many suggestions are made on lines of retrenchment. Sugar in abundance a few years ago at five cents a pound made most of us prodigal in its use. Those now living who passed four years in the south during the civil war will remember the scarcity of sugar as well as coffee, tea and other household necessities. It was simply a case of do without, and the survivors of the confederacy did not suffer physically, but returned to their homes in as fine condition as when they left.

It is generally believed that too many persons pander to the "sweet tooth." It is said that people who acquire the habit of drinking iced tea minus sugar never return to the use of sweetening of any sort. The same may be said of those who never use sugar in their coffee.

A contemporary suggests that we try to eat oatmeal with half the amount of sugar we now scatter over it.

Why bury orange slices or the halved orange in sugar and lose almost all the orange taste proper?

Why hide the warm blush of the berries under the cold mantle of the snowy sugar when just a sprinkling of it would suffice?

Why put so much sugar in lemonade that it no longer has the refreshing tartness?

Many other suggestions on these lines could be made.

GOVERNOR M'CALL'S ACTION.

As was stated in yesterday's Gazette, John Johnson, a negro, held in Boston on a charge of being a fugitive from justice, was released by order of Judge Creed, of the Municipal Court, on official notification from Governor McCall's office that a request for his extradition to West Virginia had been denied. Johnson was arrested in Boston at the request of West Virginia authorities for an alleged assault on a young white girl at Charleston.

The negro is now loose somewhere in New England.

The above brings to mind scenes in Boston back in the fifties, when an Alexandrian had a thrilling experience in the so-called "hub." Colonel Charles F. Suttle, a merchant of this city, owned a negro named Anthony Burns, who ran away and made his way to Boston. Suttle followed him to that city, where Burns was located and arrested. The Alexandrian demanded his return under the fugitive slave act of Congress. This aroused the people of Boston to fever-excitement, and large meetings addressed by Wendell Phillips and Theodore Parker, noted abolitionists of that day, were held in Faneul Hall and Meionaen Halls. The audience, refusing to wait until morning, armed themselves with clubs and axes and broke into the jail, but were driven away by a pistol shot. Burns was freed and the order for his rendition issued. He was conveyed to the cutter "Morris," surrounded by a large military force. The streets were thronged and many houses were draped in black. Suttle was threatened by the Bostonians, and there was considerable disorder during the few days he was in Boston.

Charles Dickens, in his "American Notes," refers to this chapter in the history of Boston. Like other Englishman at that time, he was a violent abolitionists and he handles the Alexandrian unmercifully in his libel on America. Among other things he says: "The nondescript (a one-eyed giant who broiled men for breakfast) which Sindbad the sailor encountered on an island in one of his voyaes, was nature's nobleman compared with this individual (Colonel Suttle.)"

The Alexandrian never forgave nor forgot the insult, and he said should Dickens ever visit Virginia in another tour of the United States he would have him arrested for criminal libel. Dickens had visited Richmond the first time he came to America, and stopped in Alexandria on his way to Potomac Creek on the old steamer "Joseph Johnson," Captain James Guy. When he returned in 1868 he came south as far as Washington, but kept out of Virginia.

LION ON THE RAMPAGE.

It is said that the elder Pitt died shortly after hearing the result of the battle of Austerlitz, in which Napoleon achieved the greatest victory of his career. The Kaiser may not give up the ghost after learning of the facts in connection with the latest British drive on the western front, but the breaking of the famous Hindenburg line will send chills down the backs of haughty Teutons who had been told that the line was invulnerable and German soldiers invincible.

The fact that the Italians are mowing down Austrians and Germans in the latter's drive on Venice is also calculated to send shudders over the Hapsburg as well as the people of Austria-Hungary who have long since tired of the war.

Despite the continuation of the storm on the British battle-front the British troops and tanks are still pushing forward.

The heavy blow dealt the Germans has driven a wide wedge through the Hindenberg line, in which there is every evidence of the Germans fleeing or surrendering without making a serious attempt to hold the defenses, which were of enormous strength.

Andrew Bonar Law announced yesterday evening in the British House of Commons that 8,000 prisoners, including 180 officers, have been taken by the British in their present operations. At one point the British penetrated five miles behind the German lines and several villages, in addition to those already announced, have been taken.

The Earl of Derby in a speech yesterday evening said that Field Marshal Haig's victory was 'a great triumph, the full extent of which is not yet known."

ADVISES BUYING BREAD.

Mrs. William Severin Delivers Address on Food Conservation Before Women's Association.

"If in each home in the United States there is saved one ounce of meat a day in one year we save 465,000,000 pounds. One slice of bread saved daily, saves 365,000,000 loaves annually. One pat of butter less a day means 114,000,000 pounds a year saved. A half cup of milk less per day saves 912,000,000 quarts of milk or the product of 400,000 cows. These figures prove that it behooves us to Hooverize.

"We are asked to observe Wheatless days. Let us carry it further. Let us discover the real wastes of wheat in our homes. The home-baked loaf of bread, time hallowed through it be, is our worst offender. The women in France no longer bake their own bread. We must adopt similar measures here.

"One to three ounces of dough—wheat, in other words—is wasted in every home baking. The dough on your fingers that you or your maid wash off in the sink, the dough that clings to the bread-board, the flour that spills while you are kneading, are wastes you cannot prevent. The only recourse is to stop baking your bread at home.

"The Red Cross and other war relief organizations are begging for your help. You can't respond when you are chained to the kitchen, nervous over whether your dough is rising properly and when watching it in the over. It takes five hours to produce two loaves of bread in your kitchen—and then perhaps it is a soggy, unpalatable mess, indigestible and really a waste. Home-baking is a triple waste—first of wheat—second of time—third of your family's digestion.

"Hundreds of thousands of barrels of flour can be saved by housewives if they will buy baker's bread. In up-to-date bake shops the correct temperature is maintained while the dough is rising. In home kitchens this is impossible. The door opens, a cold draught enters, and that dough falls. Then it is a case of Humpty Dumpty. Nothing can save that batch of dough from becoming soggy bread.

"Bake-shops,by modern contrivances, avoid wastes of dough. They can produce more bread per barrel of flour than housewives can. And bakers' bread is light. It toasts. Home-made bread won't. The crusts of bakers' bread can be easily dried, rolled and used. Your home-made crusts are too heavy for this.

"Women should therefore do less home-baking. Then they can begin today to save wheat. Wheat will help win the war. Now is the time to act. The government is supervising the bake-shops. Each bake-shop is to be licensed. But don't wait for the government to point out the wastes of home-baking. Let us resolve now to save those thousands upon thousands of barrels of flour we are literally washing down our sinks.

"For years I have been an exponent of home-baking. I have baked bread, rolls, pies, cakes by the thousands. I've taught socres of maids and girls to do the same but today in my home, home baking is barred. I consider this action to be in accordance with the spirit of my Hoover pledge. And if every woman in this country will do likewise, I venture to say that one million barrels of flour will be annually saved for use by our allies."

LEGAL ADVISORY BOARDS.

Governor Stuart Submit List of Lawyers who Will Assist Local Boards in Second Draft.

The Richmond Virginian says: "On the recommendation of the state legal advisory committee, of which Colonel Thomas W. Shelton, of Norfolk, is chairman, and James R. Caton, of Alexandria, and Attorney-General John Garland Pollard are the other members, Governor Henry C. Stuart has recommended the following district legal advisory boards to assist local exemption boards in their work in preparing for and carrying through the second draft, having forwarded the list to the office of the provost marshal-general.

These advisory boards have the right to call upon all other lawyers in their respective districts for assistance. The state legal advisory board, at a meeting held yesterday, began its work on preliminary instructions to govern the local boards' work."

Boards are named for 112 districts in Virginia. The board for Alexandria county and city is: Judge Louis C. Barley, Gardner L. Boothe and Charles T. Jessee.

NEWSPAPERS FOR FUEL.

Massachusetts Man Suggests Method by Which to Utilize Old Papers to Advantage.

Boston, Nov. 22.—F. H. Albee, of Hyde Park, has invented a "newspaper log" and has quit worrying over the high cost of fuel.

His log will burn three-quarters of an hour. He declares it will give a better fire than a hod of coal.

Here is Mr. Albee's recipe for making this newspaper log: Spread newspapers, four or five sheets folded one on a table with folded end toward you and begin to roll in fairly tight roll; before the first section is completely rolled insert a second section; add newspapers until a roll from two to three inches in diameter is made. Before finishing the last section of the roll fold back all the sheets except the outside one, so that only one sheet remains. This should be pasted down with paste or mucilage.

You will now have a solid roll of paper about eighteen inches long, which for convenience sake should be cut in two or three pieces. The "newspaper log" may be cut with an ordinary saw like firewood. Each piece should be then saturated with kerosene. A quart or two may be poured in a tin pail and the rolls, inserted end on end, should be left to soak there for several minutes. From time to time they must be turned in the oil in order to insure complete saturation.

He says that two or three of these rolls lighted in your fireplace will produce the warmest, brightest fire you have ever kindled.

GERMAN TRADE OF FUTURE.

New Conditions After the War Will Hamper Teutons.

The very reason why German competition was a force to be feared before the war furnish the reasons why it is not likely to be so largely feared after the war. German exporters were favored with advantageous rail rates from factory to shipping port; they likewise enjoyed low freight rates on heavily subsidized steamship lines; their industries were encouraged by drawbacks on raw materials amounting in some cases to heavy bonuses, and they were assisted in financing their transactions by government banks or financial institutions controlled by the government, to refer to only a few of the direct and indirect aids which the German Government gave to its export trade.

This assistance extended to export trade meant that a heavy financial burden had to be carried by the German Government, and a burden which could only be carried by taxing the German people. These taxes were laid and paid because of the promise and expectation that the losses, or rather expenses, incurred in building up this export business would be more than made up when the German manufacturerss had obtained the desired control of foreign markets. Seeking political dominance of the world, the Germans have irretrievably loss whatever chance they might otherwise have had of dominating the commerce of the world. And with the heavy taxes which must be borne by Germans of future generations to pay for the conflict of the present generation, it is inconceivable that the German Government will be able to raise the additional revenue required to assist export trade as it did in pre-war times.

LEAPS TO DEATH.

Overwork Drives Former Congressman to Suicide.

New York, Nov. 22.—George P. Lawrence, former congressman from Massachusetts, whose home was in North Adams, Mass., jumped to his death yesterday from the eighth floor of the Hotel Belmont.

Mr. Lawrence, who had been suffering from a nervous breakdown, left a note saying he could "not stand the pressure any longer." He asked that his friend, former Senator W. Murray Crane, of Massachusetts, his brother-in-law, Miles Bracewell, and his former secretary, Hugh P. Drysdale, be notified of his death.

The former congressman had been a member of the exemption board at North Adams and his arduous duties in this connection had severely aggravated the nervous trouble from which he had been suffering for a long time.

Mr. Lawrence's body was found by a hotel watchman lying crushed on the pavement of the rear courtyard of the hotel at 6:30 o'clock this morning.

George P. Lawrence was a member of Congress from the First Massachusetts district from 1899 to 1913. He previously had served as judge of the district court for northern Berkshire and in 1896 was president of the State senate. He had practiced law for a number of years.

MUST WIN THE WAR AIM.

Clemenceau Declares Germany's Signature is Not to be Trusted.

Paris, Nov. 22.—The war aim of Premier Clemenceau is to be a victor, he told the chamber of deputies today.

"If Germany tomorrow expressed a wish to enter into the society of nations, I would not agree," M. Clemenceau said, "for Germany's signature cannot be trusted. You ask what my war aims are? My aim is to be a victor."

Deputy Pierre Forgeot demanded the firm handling of the political scandals. He declared that Louis J. Malvy, former minister of the interior, either is a traitor or that Leon Daudet, Malvy's accused, is a scoundrel. He demanded that the connection with the scandals of Joseph Caillaux, the former premier, should be made clear. Premier Clemenceau made an approving gesture and M. Caillaux applauded.

The premier expressed sympathy with the socialists and idealists, but declared that experiments were impossible in war time. He turned the laugh on some of his interrupters by saying that the only advantage of old age is that one becomes deaf.

TO SOLVE DEMANDS.

President Has a Plan Which Will be Submitted to Employees.

President Wilson's plan to solve the demands of the railway brotherhoods for wage increases is by a railroad wage adjustment board. Acceptances of this arbitration principle by the employees' leaders at today's White House conference will stave off drastic legislation the President will ask of congress if all other plans fail to prevent a tie-up of war transportation. The wage fixing board, according to one of the President's closest advisers, will be molded after the shipyard and cantonment agreements between the American Federation of Labor and the government. The decision of the board would be binding on both railroads and employees. The railroads have accepted this principle. If the brotherhoods also agree to it there can be no nationwide strike. The agreement would provide for adjustment of the dispute before an employees' walkout could occur.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

W. J. Dobbins, of South Richmond, convicted in hustings court, part 2, and sentenced to serve four months in the city jail and pay a fine of $200 for violation of the prohibition laws, will have to serve two and a half months and pay the fine imposed by the trial jury. That was the decision of Governor Stuart yesterday, after receiving the petition of several citizens—ministers, legislators, business men and others—from the southside for clemency. Governor Stuart called on the judge and the attorney for the commonwealth for their views of the case, and they were opposed to setting the man free. Mr. Page insisted on a service of the full term ascertained by the jury. Governor Stuart then read the record of the man, and after considering all the facts he commuted the sentence to two and a half months and the payment of the fine imposed. Dobbins was formerly in the saloon business in Richmond—on both sides of the river.

Harry Buracker and Andrew Jenkins, both of Ida, Page county, were killed at an early hour yesterday morning on the Norfolk and Western Railway, two miles east of Luray. The men were killed at a heavy grade, and it is supposed that they were waiting for a freight train on which they were to ride to West Va., where Buracker had been at work, having come to his home in Luray county a few days ago. Jenkins was at home on a furlough from Camp Lee, Petersburg. It is said that he had remained beyond the time allowed in the furlough and officers were on the outlook for him. Each man leaves a wife and one child. It is supposed that the men were struck by a southbound passenger train. Their bodies were badly mangled. Buracker was about 30 years of age and Jenkins about 23.

The seventh annual council of the National Society of the United States Daughters of 1812 of Virginia, opened this morning at the Jefferson Hotel, Richmond, with a large attendance of delegates. Many matters of importance will be discussed at the meeting, which will continue through tomorrow.

Fred Grant, of Mendota, Va., a member of the One Hundred and Fiftieth Infantry Supply Company, was killed at Camp Shelby, near Hattiesburg, Miss., late yesterday, when a log rolled from a wagon and struck him on the head.

Yesterday was the second day of the ninety-fourth annual session of the Baptist General Association of Virginia now meeting with the Belmont Baptist church of Roanoke. The report of B. A. Jacob, treasurer of the association, showed that the total receipts this past year for mission and benevolent work reached the sum of $264,913.71.

Raymond Wherry, a young man employed as a plumbers' helper by C. T. Taylor, the Hampton contractor, is a patient at the Dixie hospital suffering from a broken back as the result of a wrestling accident.

GOOCHLAND MURDER.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 22.—Announcement was made here today that J. C. Page, well known Richmond lawyer, had been retained as leading counsel for Dr. Asa W. Chamberlain, who is in the Henrico county jail here, accused of murdering his brother, Judge Albert P. Chamberlain, at the home of the latter in Goochland county, just one month ago today.

The Commonwealth, during the month that has elapsed since the murder, declares that nothing has developed to indicate that any other than Dr. Chamberlain is guilty of the crime.

Dissatisfied with his prison fare, Dr. Chamberlain today asked that in the future he be allowed to purchase his own food. It will be closely scrutinized by the officials before being served the aged doctor.

A Richmond minister who visited Dr. Chamberlain in his cell told officials that the first question put to him by the accused was "What is the sentiment toward me?" Further than that nothing is known of what took place between the minister and the prisoner.

The youthful wife of the doctor is expected to reach Richmond by the end of the week. Letters stated that she would come here to be with him during his trial. She is now in Kearney, Neb., where she went a few hours before the murder in Goochland county.

WANTED BREAD AND WATER

Berliner Asks Prison Term in Order to Escape Starvation.

The only way a man in Berlin could get an allowance of bread was to have himself imprisoned and so live on bread and water. The Hannover Volkswille reports:

"A respectfully dressed man appeared before the Berlin town councillors and begged as a special favor to be imprisoned for one day at least on a bread-and-water diet.

"When asked to explain his strange request, the applicant said: "It's quite simple. I consumed the last allowance of bread represented by my bread card recently, and I cannot obtain a fresh card until Monday. Moreover, I reside in that particular western suburb which for some time past has been supplied by the Charlottenburg water-works with an indefinable and evil-smelling liquid instead of water. I am, therefore, actually without bread and without water. Beer I cannot afford at the price.

"The man was advised by the mayor to commit some misdemeanor so that he might be sentenced to imprisonment on his famous diet. He thereupon left court and promptly knocked down a policeman standing at the door.

"He was immediately captured, brought before the judge, and sent to prison, not for one but for 10 days."

GERMAN MAGNANIMITY.

Newspaper Expatiates on "Lunatic Goodness of Teuton Disposition."

There is a curious instance of this blunted faculty in the Rheinisch-Westfaelische Zeitung:

"When shall we Germans learn the bitter lesson that it is useless for us in the innate goodness of our disposition, in the magnanimity that bubbles forth from our bosom whenever we spy from afar an opportunity for befriending and benefiting a beaten opponent, to hope for gratitude in return for our noble treatment of the enemy?

"A high Prussian Government official who has traveled half the world over narrated to us his experiences in Benares. There, in the sacred stream of the Ganges, bathe the healthy and the sick, while the sacred animals are defiling the waters which thousands of human being imbibe amid a religious ecstasy. To all this the Briton remains indifferent.

"Suppose Benares were to become German; what would happen? Instantly an order would be issued forbidding bathing in or drinking of the waters of the Ganges. And what would be the consequence? A general revolt of the Indians, who would consider their holiest aspirations outraged."

DEATH OF REV. DR. ROLSTON

Formerly Was Pastor of Second Presbyterian Church in Petersburg.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 22.—Rev. D. H. Rolston, D. D., moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina, died at his home here last night of spinal meningitis, with which he had been suffering since Sunday morning. He was thirty-nine years of age, and had been pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, this city, since November, 1911, when he came here from Petersburg, Va. He was a native of Harrisonburg, Va., and was educated for the ministry at Union Theological Seminary, Richmond. He was elected moderator by the North Carolina Synod at its recent annual session in Fayettesville, North Carolina.

FEDERAL POLICE PLANNED.

To be Used for Guarding Plants And Railroads Where Needed.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Army departmental commanders have been relieved of the duty of assigning troops to guard industries and railroads, as the first step in the War Department's general plan for cooperating with the states in a system of internal control during the war that will not drain the fighting forces. Hereafter all requests for guards, either from state authorities or from manufacturers, must be made to the adjutant-general's office for reference to the Militia Bureau.

Soldiers now doing police and watchman work will be relieved soon, and to supplement men for such duty furnished by the states, the department is preparing to organize a special force of Federal police, semi-miltiary in character.

Inquiries have been made of the state adjutants-general for information that will form the basis for cooperation. There is no purpose of taking over the home guards or constabulary, but the Federal Government wants to know just what the states may be expected to do.

The new Federal forces will approximate the constabulary organizations of the states and will have none of the disadvantages of a military body.

In its communications to the adjutants-general, the department asks for information as to peculiarly exposed industries threatened by large nearby alien enemy populations. In such cases a force of police sufficient to control any uprising, or, if necessary of troops, will be stationed. Stress is laid by the department, however, upon the fact that the laws to be enforced are chiefly state laws and that it is the duty of the state to provide all possible protection.

HUN SCANDAL BREWING

Bavarian Accuses High Prussian Officials of Graft.

Copenhagen, Nov. 22.—The makings of a German Government scandal are contained in an article written by Dr. Heim, leader of the Bavarian Peasant party, attacking high officials of the Government's purchasing and distributing agencies, for private profiteering at public expense.

Discussing the sale of the Danube merantile fleet, established by the Central Purchasing Society for transporting grain and food products from Roumania and Hungary, to the Bavarian Lloyd, a private shipping concern, Dr. Heim shows that the Bavarian Lloyd was given an extraordinary bargain, He charges also that Privy Councillor Frisch, managing director of the Central Purchasing Society who negotiated the sale, has become a director of the steamship concern as has a high Bavarian official.

Dr. Heim declares that six other high officials of the Government purchasing agency are in the pay of large private concerns. The Central Purchasing Society is a Government monopoly established to purchase and import foodstuffs from abroad. The Bavarian Lloyd is a Danube shipping concern in which the Hamburg-American Line and the Bavarian Royal House are interested.

Dr. Heim, who is president of the so-called Peasants League, long has waged war against the various governmental food and raw material monopolies.

SUGAR FOR CZAR SEIZED.

Ten Thousand Tons Bought Before Revolution Will Relieve Shortage Here.

New York, Nov. 22.—The sugar shortage situation in New York and New England was relieved somewhat yesterday by the seizure by George M. Rolph, federal sugar administrator, of 10,000 tons bought for the former Russian imperial government and by Mr. Rolph's declaration that 25 car loads of beet sugar are on the way from the West to Boston and New England points.

The sugar seized yesterday was attached Tuesday by the Marine Transportation Service Corporation in connection with a suit against former Emperor Nicholas of Russia, seeking to obtain $2,800,000 for alleged breach of contract. The proceeds from the sale of the sugar will be amenable to the writ of attachment. This sugar, which has been held in storage here since its purchase for the Russian government before the downfall of the Romanoff dynasty, is to be placed upon the market immediately and distributed to the retailers through the American Refiners' Committee.

The shipment to Boston from the West contains 25,000 bags, each of 100 pounds weight. In addition 5,000 tons of Western beet sugar will be received in New York from California within 20 days and will be distributed in Atlantic Coast states, according to Mr. Rolph.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Elmer Dwiggins, former New York manager of the Bankers' Life Company, of Des Moines, was indicted by a Federal grand jury yesterday on a charge of using the mails to defraud purchasers of Liberty bonds. Dwiggins was arrested in Montgomery, Ala., on a Federal warrant, having fled from New York after he is alleged to have collected $80,000 on the second issue of the loan. His entire shortage is said to aggregate $150,000.

Three automobile bandits yesterday stepped into a jewelry store on the principal downtown street in Minneapolis, drove three clerks into a back room, forced another to open the safe and escaped with diamonds and other gems valued at between $45,000 and $50,000.

The convention of the American Federation of Labor adopted yesterday in Buffalo, N. Y., a resolution condemning Postmaster General Burleson for his "autocratic policy toward postal employes," and instructed the executive council of the Federation to obtain an audience with President Wilson and place before him facts "concerning the oppressive labor policy of the Postmaster-General."

Martial law was declared thrughout the state of Sao Paulo, Brazil, yesterday. Censorship was imposed upon press dispatches and the highways were closed to automobile traffic. There is a big German colony in Sao Paulo and a German uprising occurred there before Brazil broke off relations with Germany.

Carrying out his threat to kill her "if he found out about her," Charles Howard, 32 years old, of Baltimore, shot his wife, Lula Howard, 30 years old, through the head yesterday afternoon, killing her almost instantly, and then turned the pistol on himself, inflicting a wound in his temple that caused his death two hours later.

Practically complete returns on Tuesday's election showed in Los Angeles, Cal., voted for the elimination of saloons and severe restrictions on the liquor traffic by a majority of nearly 20,000. Effective after March 31, 1918, the initiative ordinance will make Los Angeles the largest city in the United States without saloons, according to present records.

Bishop John Gardner Murray, of the Diocese of Maryland, was re-elected president of the Protestant Episcopal Province of Washington yesterday at the opening of the Provincial Synod in Philadelphia. Other officers elected were: Treasurer, William West Frazier, Jr., Pennsylvania; member of the General Board of Missions, to succeed Bishop Thompson, Rev. Dr. Wyeth Brown, Pittsburgh; lay member of the executive committee, John Stewart Bryan, Diocese of Virginia; Bishop Ethelbert Talbot, of the Diocese of Bethlehem, Pa., was among those elected to the Court of Reviews.

Sustained pursuit of the remaining German forces in German East Africa, during which nearly 1,000 prisoners were captured, important positions occupied and the last heavy gun remaining to the Germans in the colony taken intact, is reported in an official statement.

A bill has been submitted to the German reichstag authorizing the chancellor to dispose of a credit of 15,000,000,000 marks for extraordinary expenses, says a Berlin dispatch. The bill has been placed first on the order of the day for the reichstag session of November 29.

I. W. W. MEN ARRESTED

Two Trunks Full of Papers And Plans Also Seized.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 22.—Two trunks full of papers, some of which are said to contain plans of the Independent Workers of the World, have been seized in Butler county, Kansas, it was announced yesterday by Fred Robertson, United States district attorney for Kansas.

Arrests in Butler county reached 50, but Mr. Robertson said a number had been released.

Word was received from El Dorado, Kansas that 18 men had been arrested there and charged with conspiring to foment riots in the oil fields.

Dr. Albert Barr, secretary of the Tulsa, Okla., local of the Independent Workers of the World, and Paul Haiack, who is said to have served four years in the German Navy, were among the 26 men arrested at Augusta.

Ironwood, Mich., Nov. 22.—Eli Hihnala was arrested at Bessemer on a Federal warrant charging that he was "found advocating anarchy." Hihnala was a leader in the Independent Workers of the World troubles at Bessemer in July, and was arrested. He was later released, but was then arrested as a slacker but again released.

ROBBER ATTACKS MAYOR

Jumps on Williamsport's Executive And Steals $100 Pin

Hagerstown, Md., Nov. 22.—Mayor George W. Hurd, Williamsport, had a desperate struggle late Tuesday night in his drugstore with a robber, who appeared as Hurd was closing his place of business and purchased a box of matches, tendering in payment a five dollar bill.

The robber jumped on Hurd's back and bit his fingers. Hurd fell, but struggled to his feet and again was attacked. The Mayor worked his way to the front door and shouted for help. Dr. Theo. Boose ran to his asssitance. The robber fought both men and finally broke away. He was pursued by Policeman Hawbaker, but escaped in the darkness.

The robber was well built, well-dressed, wore a black slouch hat and had a scar over his left eye. He carried off Hurd's $100 cameo pin.

NEW YORK POLICE ACCUSED.

"Monkey-Wrench Graft" Alleged in Extortion Scheme.

New York, Nov. 22.—Six members of the New York Police Department and a dealer in automobile supplies were indicted yesterday on charges of extortion, bribery or neglect of duty, by the extraordinary grand jury which, at the instance of Governor Whitman, has been conducting an investigation into conditions brought to light by the Ruth Cruger murder case.

Alleged "monkey wrench graft," collected from automobile speeders who were forced to buy automobile accessories from dealers or suffer arrest, was one of the revelations growing out of the escape of Alfredo Cocchi, Ruth Cruger's murderer. Cocchi kept an automobile supply shop.

Germans Seeking Potatoes.

The scarcity of potatoes in Germany is brought out in the following story from the Hanover Volkswille:

"The news spread like wildfire throughout the town of Coslar that potatoes were to be obtained on the Ohlhoff estate, and at 5 A. M., the road to Coslar presented the picture of an exodus.

"In many hundreds, boys and women on foot, in country carts and on horses and donkeys, wended their way in an endless chain toward Ohlhoff to procure the much-desired potatoes, the taste of which they had all but forgotten.

Never was seen such a wild, mad rush to be among the first to be served. Yet all this energy proved misspent, for when the end of the pilgrimage was reached the ominous words 'Potatoes sold out!' were shouted forth at the eager throng through a megaphone.

"Afterward the information leaked out that on the previous day a party of well-to-do citizens from Hildesheim had bought up the whole stock of potatoes at fancy prices. When this was ascertained, the incensed people took their revenge on the unpatriotic farmer by setting fire to his mill, which, notwithstanding the energetic efforts of the local fire brigade, was entirely destroyed."

KNITTING IN CHURCH.

Minister Encourages Women to Bring Their Needles.

Denver, Col., Nov. 22.—The Sunday morning sermon of Rev. L. B. Longacre, local Congregational minister, is now accompanied by the merry clicking of a hundred pairs of knitting needles. Women of his congregation, unwilling to leave off their knitting of sleeveless sweaters and other comforts for the Sammies petitioned the pastor for permission to knit during the service. He not only agreed, but assisted them to recruit members for the Sunday morning knitting class.
